

Virtual Office Olympics Speech

Welcome the group and introduce yourself for those who may not know you. Allow some time for your team to socialize at the start while everyone joins the meeting. Before introducing the activity, ensure everyone has what is needed to get started, strong Wi-Fi or if in person appropriate materials and clothing to participate.

Once ready, introduce the activity to your group.

Hello everyone and thank you for joining us! We have a very exciting activity planned for you today, your very own Office Olympics!

Get ready to go for the GOLD with this Olympics-themed activity that will have your team working together to answer trivia questions and complete fun photo and video challenges! You'll need to play to your strengths and work against the clock to earn points and climb to the top of the Leaderboard!

To participate, one person on your team will need to log in to the Outback Team Building and Training web app on any web-enabled device. Once you've signed into the web app, your team will complete challenges by submitting multiple choice answers, text responses, photos, and videos – all using the Outback web application.

The team who correctly completes the most challenges and earns the most points will be the Office Olympics Gold Medal Champions!

Before we get started, I'd like to share a few tips for today's activity:

- One person only per team needs to sign into the app. This person is responsible for submitting the answer once your team agrees on it.
- Challenges can be completed in any order. You'll need to strategize to determine which challenges will earn your team the most points within the time limit.
- Points are based on the level of difficulty for each challenge. Completing the harder ones will earn you more points.
- Once an answer is submitted, it cannot be changed.
- Spelling counts with trivia questions. Please confirm the spelling with your team before submitting your answer.
- You will also encounter some photo and video challenges. Please read the challenge descriptions carefully and complete them as directed in order to earn points.

Provide all teams in the group any resources needed prior to breaking them out. Activity code, challenge lists, resource materials etc. Once they have everything they need, break them out into teams.

Team Captains, let's get signed into the activity and get started!

Alright everyone, let's get started!

Closing Speech

Today's activity tested your teams' mental strengths and problem-solving abilities as you worked together to find answers to the challenges you faced.

To complete these challenges:

- You focused on fast, open and effective communication.
- You acted and reacted to situations with the team's best interest in mind.
- You supported each other through every aspect of the activity, from start to finish, no matter what obstacles were put in your way.
- And most importantly, you acted as a team rather than as a group of individuals.

(Option: Share and/or briefly comment on a couple of the best/most interesting photos to start the debrief.)

Before I announce our top three teams, I'd like to hear about your experience today.

Basic Debrief Questions

- What are some qualities of a Leader / Effective Communicator that you admire? How did you see those qualities being shown within your team?
- Was there a predominate leader in your group? Did you share the leadership role based on a particular challenge?
- How will you transfer what you learned today back into the workplace?

And now the moment you've all been waiting for...it's time to announce the top teams!

BRONZE 3rd place:

SILVER 2nd place:

GOLD 1st place:

That wraps up your Office Olympics! It has been a pleasure working with you today, and I hope you had as much fun as I did.

Thank you!
