

Picnic Party Games - Sample Speech

Welcome the group and introduce yourself for those who may not know you. Allow some time for your team to socialize at the start while everyone joins the meeting. Before introducing the activity, ensure everyone has what is needed to get started, strong Wi-Fi or if in person appropriate materials and clothing to participate.

Once ready, introduce the activity to your group.

Hello everyone and thank you for joining us. We have a very exciting activity planned for you today, your very own Picnic Party Games! Are you ready to have some fun?

Picnic Party Games is a high energy team building activity that will have your team working together to complete fun intellectual riddles and entertaining physical challenges. You'll need to play to your strengths and work against the clock to earn points and climb to the top of the leaderboard.

To participate, one person on your team will need to log in to the free Outback Team Building and Training web application on their smartphones. Once you've signed in to the app, your team will complete challenges by submitting fun photos, videos and text responses – all within the Outback app.

The team who correctly completes the most challenges and earns the most points will be the Picnic Party Games Champions!

Before we get started, I'd like to share a few tips for today's activity:

- One person only per team needs to sign into the app. This person is responsible for submitting the answer once your team agrees on it.
- Challenges can be completed in any order. You'll need to strategize to determine which challenges will earn your team the most points within the time limit.
- Points are based on the level of difficulty for each challenge. Completing the harder ones will earn you more points.
- Spelling counts with trivia questions, please confirm the spelling with your team before submitting your answer.
- You will also encounter some photo challenges in each round. Please read the challenge descriptions carefully and complete them as directed in order to earn points.
- Once an answer is submitted, it cannot be changed.

Provide all teams in the group any resources needed prior to breaking them out (QR code or event link, challenge lists, resource materials etc.). Once they have everything they need, break them out into teams.

Team Captains, let's get signed in to the activity and get started!

QR Code / Event link: _____

Please accept camera and microphone permissions and choose a username you can remember.

Once signed in, you can edit your team name and take a team photo.

Alright everyone, let's get started!

Closing Speech

Today the Picnic Party Games revealed your teams' hidden talents and tested your unique abilities with mind-bending puzzles and interactive physical and skill-based challenges.

To complete these challenges:

- You focused on fast, open and effective communication.
- You acted and reacted to situations with the team's best interest in mind.
- You supported each other through every aspect of the activity, from start to finish, no matter what obstacles were put in your way.
- And most importantly, you acted as a team rather than as a group of individuals.

(Option: Share and/or briefly comment on a couple of the best/most interesting photos to start the debrief.)

Before I announce our top three teams, I'd like to hear about your experience today.

Basic Debrief Questions

- What are some qualities of a Leader/ Effective Communicator that you admire? How did you see those qualities being shown within your team?
- Was there a predominate leader in your group? Did you share the leadership role based on the particular challenge?
- How will you transfer what you learned today back into the workplace?

And now the moment you've all been waiting for...it's time to announce the top teams!

With a score of: _____ In third (3rd) place is: _____

With a score of: _____ In second (2nd) place is: _____

With a score of: _____ The winning team is: _____

_____, please come collect your medals and pose for a victory photo!

That wraps up your Picnic Party Games. It has been a pleasure working with you today, and I hope you had as much fun as I did.

Thank you!!!
